

And we are [A]live!

In this highly technological world, nothing is impossible. We can access all information and navigate the world at a snap of a finger and cryptocurrency movement is no different.

While Xian Coin (XNC) might be centralized, its blockchain is a distributed public ledger. Simply put, a blockchain is a digital record of all the transactions for a specific cryptocurrency for all people to see with 100% transparency.

Some may doubt the existence of my very own Xian Coin (XNC) due to the dubious nature of its founder but the various transactional footprints do not lie. The many and ever-updating links you see below are the real-time done transactions of XNCs. Known as a Transaction Hash or TxHash, each line is a “unique 66 characters identifier that is generated whenever a transaction is executed.” (Etherscan, 2020).

Click on each line in the box to check and verify the TxHash, status, block, timestamp, contracting parties, number of tokens (coins) transferred, value, transaction fee, gas price, and so on of the many transactions of XNCs thus far.

Just like what we have said, we are [a]live, people!

Xian Coins (XNC): Born from the Mind of a Criminal Mastermind

Imagine a non-physical currency traversing the world, empowering non-traditional businesses, and fuelling unconventional economies across continents in a blink of an eye.

No paper money, no coins, no financial trails, no taxes, no regulations – a digital currency that is 100% digital, anonymous, and centralized.

What if you can own a piece of that exclusive financial action today? We are putting back the power (and freedom) into your capital.

Together, let's maximize the future of endless possibilities with Xian Coin (Token: XNC).

The Problem: The Gap in my World

In my world, moving money quickly, quietly, secretly, effectively, and more importantly, efficiently is the name of the game. The unconventional goods and services that one can offer are only as good as his/her ability to move the payment and/or compensation received in exchange for the transactions.

However, due to the various regulatory bodies imposing a plethora of evolving rules, ballooning taxes, and many others, moving money on a large-scale basis has been the number one headache of my various trans-continental operations. Limitations also imposed by existing financial institutions – working hours, business days, many holidays, delayed international and local transfers, system breakdowns, just to mention a few – restrict my ability in pushing my businesses to greater heights.

I, for one, function at a 24/7 capacity, so why can't "my money" hustle at the same pace or even harder? With XNC, all of these problems will be nothing but a thing of the past.

Moving money will be like a gentle breeze kissing my cheeks as I sleep soundly at night, wherever I am (and you are) on the face of the planet. My, our money, will be working even on hours when we cannot.

My Solution: Bridging the Gap with the Financial Technology of the Future, Today

This is by no means an idealistic and ambitious project. This is as real as it gets. I created my own cryptocurrency.

Break down all the walls, burn down all the barriers, and let the lifeblood of my various businesses flow into the financial underworld of cryptocurrency trading and investing, courtesy of yours truly, where I, we, can make the rules and chart the course that work for our ultimate and collective benefit.

These are not empty wishes, but rather, the necessary steps to make sure that my various enterprises thrive and survive – even long after I am gone, and when everything that is left of me is my undying legacy, whatever that might be.

A coin (Token: XNC) that is free to roam and blossom into the world especially at my home country, The Philippines, even if I am not capable of doing so at this time.

The XNC Movement: “As Above, So Below”

At the heart of this all is the Xian Coin and its journey starts from Xian Crypto Bank (XCB).

All XNCs were immediately mined post inception so as to be faithful to its autonomous, anonymous, and centralized purpose. These are then stored in the XCB. From there, any initial buying via either the Pre-Initial Coin Offering (ICO) or the ICO Proper shall then be coursed online via www.xianco.in, which is then disbursed from the XCB.

After which, all holders are free to use the XNCs as they see fit — for consumption, mode of transaction, procurement, among others — just like any other cryptocurrency. They can trade with each other (person-to-person or P2P) to effect personal agreements upon the fulfillment of a contract/service; transact with the Xian Crypto Bank directly (buy or sell) in order to post or convert their XNC to PHP or vice versa; and also, it can also be utilized as a means to position in the cryptocurrency world. At this point, the XNC (somehow) takes a life of its own just like any other crypto born out of the mind of man.

In summary, XNC aims to empower people, fuel businesses, and maximize our collective capacity to conquer the ever-evolving technological revolutions of our time and of the coming future.

The main hurdle is expanding XNC's global footprint. First, due to the innate nature of cryptocurrencies, this will be easier than traditional modalities, but the goal to make it global needs to happen as quickly as the technology supporting it evolves.

Second, the most personal one, keeping the ground running so I can achieve billionaire status fast.

And last, establishing a reliable crypto exchange that will support all this massive technological movement.

Now, the question which is ought to be asked is, how far can we go in achieving this futuristic dream?
